Sheriff Gabe Morgan presented the Virginia Sheriff's Institute scholarship award to Newport News resident Ashley Suntheimer. Ashley is a graduate of Menchville High School, where she was a model student. She earned a place on the Honor Roll and was recognized for having Perfect Attendance. Not only did Ashley excel academically, she found time to participate in various extracurricular activities like student council and drama.

The merit of the scholarship program offered through the Virginia Sheriff's Institute (VSI) is clear. It is designed to help Virginia's youth pursue careers in law enforcement and criminal justice. "Working with young people has always been one of my passions," said Sheriff Morgan. "I am proud," he continued, "to support the scholarship program because I share the same goals. We must empower our future leaders through education. I wish Miss Suntheimer success in her endeavors to become a U.S. Marshall or an ATF Agent."

Ashley will be attending Radford University.
